

CLEVELAND AT HOME AGAIN.

The President-Elect Arrived in New York This Morning.

Much Benefited Physically by His Shooting Trip in Virginia.

President-elect Cleveland arrived in Jersey City from his shooting trip on an island Chesapeake Bay at 7:45 this morning on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Express of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He came in a private car belonging to General Superintendent Kenney, of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad. The train was eight minutes late.

Mr. Cleveland's valet, for whom he had telegraphed from Exmore, Va., last night, appeared in the depot about 7:30 o'clock, having left his distinguished employer's private carriage at the ferry entrance below. With the exception of a small group of reporters the valet was the only one on hand to meet the President-elect.

As Mr. Cleveland stepped out of the private car he was met by the colored porter, leading a white and yellow spotted pointer dog. Mr. Cleveland wore a black suit and overcoat and a black derby hat. He carried over his left arm another black top coat, and as he walked briskly down the platform he showed clearly that his shooting excursion had been highly beneficial to him. His face was bronzed and he looked the picture of health.

To an Evening World reporter who greeted him Mr. Cleveland said he had had a very pleasant trip, and although he had killed many birds he did not bring any home with him.

Asked his opinion of the effect of the death of Jay Gould, Mr. Cleveland said he had heard of the event and was very sorry, as he knew Mr. Gould quite well.

The President-elect with his valet and the dog entered his carriage, which was drawn by a handsome pair of bays. There was a wait of about five minutes at the ferry slip, and then the carriage drove on the boat. It required but very few minutes for the crowd of wage-earners on the boat to discover that the President-elect was on board. His carriage was soon the center of attraction, but there was no demonstration of any kind. When the boat reached New York, Mr. Cleveland's carriage drove off through the streets, and the crowd of people who were waiting for him. Mr. Cleveland's private car was attached to the Chesapeake Bay Express at 10:10 o'clock, and he made the homeward journey alone.

At the house this forenoon it was said that Mr. Cleveland had not yet decided when he would join his wife and child at Lakewood. He would remain at home all of today, it was said.

CORRIGAN RETRACTS NOTHING.

Bishop Wigger Vigorously Attacks the Recalcitrant Priest.

The controversy in progress between Roman Catholic Bishop Wigger, of Newark, and Father Corrigan, of the Church of Our Lady of Grace, in Hoboken, is daily waxing warmer. Yesterday the Bishop made a public reply to the recalcitrant priest, pronouncing as "an unmitigated falsehood" the statement of Father Corrigan that he (the Bishop) and Archbishop Corrigan had not been on speaking terms for years.

Bishop Wigger also stated that as an evidence of his non-support of Catholicism he issued some time ago a renunciation to the Holy Father declaring it to be unjust to the American episcopate.

Further Corrigan, in an interview today, said that he does not regret the stand he has taken. He insists that he is trying to help Catholic priests in the matter of religious appeal, as well as America and the Catholic Church generally in this country. He says he has received letters from people all over the country endorsing the stand he has taken.

Further Corrigan's trial will take place in Newark next Monday, and it is likely he will appeal to the Supreme Court. The trial will be held in the city of Newark, and it is likely that the trial will be held in the city of Newark.

RUSH TO SNI HILLS FOR GOLD.

Prospectors Are Leaving Kansas City by the Carload.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5.—The gold excitement in the Sni Hills, east of here, continues at a high pitch. Outbound trains carry hundreds of persons who are going to prospect in an endeavor to locate a claim.

An Early Morning Fight.

Michael Leach, twenty-two years old, of 204 Union street, and John Kane, of 325 Union street, Brooklyn, at 3 o'clock this morning got into a fight in front of Leach's house. Leach struck Kane on the head with some blunt instrument, inflicting several severe scalp wounds. Leach was arrested.

MORELLO HELD FOR MURDER.

To Answer for the Shooting of Mele in Mulberry Bend.

Murderer's Wife Throws Kisses at Him and Then Faints.

Jealousy or revenge is responsible for another Mulberry Bend tragedy, in which Francesco Mele, a one-eyed Italian organ-grinder, was killed, and Carmine Bianchi, a baker, of 218 Canal street, slightly wounded by Antonio Morello, a treated husband.

Mele, Bianchi and the wife of Morello, who is alleged, is indirectly responsible for the affair, were in the Tombs Police court this morning.

Bianchi's statement accusing Morello of having shot and killed Mele in cold blood was taken, and upon the strength of it the prisoner was held without bail to answer.

Morello is a labor contractor and he keeps a saloon at 14 Mulberry street, which is tended by his wife, Gustavina. The woman is well known in the Bend, and has a reputation for liberality in dispensing free drinks during her husband's absence.

Yesterday afternoon, it is alleged, Mrs. Morello was accosted on the sidewalk near her home by Mele and Bianchi, who demanded money to buy beer. Upon her refusal Mele and Bianchi were standing in the doorway and several companions were loitering about the sidewalk.

"There is the man," she said, pointing her finger at Mele. She held a 32-caliber revolver, and, pointing it at Mele with the exclamation, "I'll give you two cents and three of them, you rascal, and then I'll shoot you into the man's body, killing him almost instantly."

Bianchi stood spellbound. Raising his revolver, he fired a shot into the air, the bullet merely grazing the skin of the neck. The murderer fled to his home, where he was locked in his room. Mele is twenty-seven years old, with fierce black eyes, bushy hair and a stubby beard. Gustavina, his wife, is perhaps thirty-five and not particularly good looking.

She followed her husband into the court, weeping and throwing kisses at him as he was locked into the pen. Then she staggered to a seat and fainted away.

SHE HID THE BEER PITCHER.

Her Husband Almost Murdered Her When He Found It.

Mrs. Theodore Vredenburg is lying in a critical condition at her home, 301 East One Hundred and Twenty-second street.

Saturday night she was beaten over the head with a pitcher and a drinking glass by her husband, who escaped. The woman's skull was thought to be fractured at the base. The police are still looking for Vredenburg.

It was all the result of Mrs. Vredenburg hiding a pitcher of beer from her husband, who was alleged to have found it. The beer he threw it into his wife's face and then broke the pitcher over her head.

Picking up a drinking glass he broke that also on his wife's head. Then he threw her to the floor.

Blood oozed out from the wounds in her head, where she was found later lying by her husband, who escaped.

She was covered with blood. The floor and bed were saturated with blood. The police are still looking for Vredenburg.

No Redress for the Englishman. Boise, Idaho, Dec. 5.—The War Department will be informed by Gov. Wylie, of Idaho, that Alexander Chisholm, a British subject, is not entitled to any redress from the United States for the alleged indignities inflicted upon him during the Cour d'Alene insurrection.

One man has offered to swear that he threatened the lives of several persons, and C. Curtis, commanding the militia, declares that Chisholm fled from his quarters in Idaho. It is not thought that the English government will press his request for an official investigation.

LOUIS KOSUTH REPORTED DYING AT HIS HOME IN TURIN.

VIENNA, Dec. 5.—It is reported here that Louis Kosuth, the Hungarian patriot, is dying at his residence in Turin. It was only a short time ago that he celebrated the nineteenth anniversary of his birth.

JOHN I. WANTS TO TESTIFY.

"Bad Spells" with the Heart.

DIZZY, FAINT, IN DESPAIR.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA CURED. It has suffered very much during the past few years from.

HEART TROUBLE.

Physicians said I might live a number of years, as they said. I could usually tell up a sharp pain in the heart, then violent thumping, shortness of breath, and I was unable to walk, unless I could lie down at once. I would fall wherever I was. I never dared to be left alone for I had to have help at once, and that cost me a great deal of money. I was unable to sleep, and had to be careful of the least excitement. I got very much discouraged at the outlook and thought.

THERE WAS NO HOPE.

Of ever finding anything to help me. One day a doctor said, "Why don't you try Hood's SARSAPARILLA?" I thought it over and decided to try it, and I thank God for it, too. Since I began taking it, three years ago, I have had but one "bad spell," and that was due to a cold. I am now as well as ever, and I can do all my household work, even to washing. WHO IS THE MAN FOR FRANCE?

Deville and Loubet Have Refused to Form a Ministry.

Rumor that Carnot May Resign Discredited by a Correspondent.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—It is announced this afternoon that both M. Deville and M. Loubet have refused to undertake the formation of a cabinet.

It is expected that President Carnot will be obliged to again summon M. Brisson or M. Ribot to form a new ministry.

Deville and Loubet, who were interviewed by a correspondent this morning, and consented to accept a portfolio if a cabinet should be formed by M. Deville.

The only possible serious danger is that he should fail to see that the Panama Investigating Committee must not be checked or resisted. It is generally admitted that Editor Herz had nothing to do with the Panama affairs.

M. Dugue (not One Panama Check). PARIS, Dec. 5.—According to the Revue, M. Dugue, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, admits that he received one of the Thierce checks for 25,000 francs, this being his share from Baron Henrich in a guaranteed syndicate, in which M. Dugue, who incurred certain risks, was entitled to compensation if the operation of the syndicate was successful.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

Declaration on the Withdrawal of Half Sovereigns Amended.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 5.—When the International Monetary Conference resumes its sittings tomorrow the first matter requiring settlement will be whether the report of the committee appointed to consider the Rothschild plan shall be further debated or the proposals of the American delegates proceeded with.

Mr. Rothschild, who is accompanied by Sir Wm. Houston, British delegate, desires an expression of opinion regarding Mr. Rothschild's plan from the full conference. Bertrand Curie, another British delegate, in common with some of the other delegates who are registered to see the conference result in failure, would accelerate the consideration of the American resolutions as hastening the winding up of the meeting.

Sir C. Fremantle, with a view to the resumption of the debate on the Rothschild plan, has amended his declaration declining to pledge the English Government to withdraw its half-sovereign pieces in favor of silver by adding the words "except concurrently with the adoption of the Rothschild plan or some other proposal having the same compensatory value."

Fremantle, who is deputy Master of the British Mint, has never been known to take independent action or personal initiative, and it is, therefore, taken for granted that he is the mouthpiece of the British government in announcing assent to the abolition of the half-sovereign.

PRINCE MALATESTA DEAD.

Napoleon's Old Auxiliary Passes Away as a Trappist Monk.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Paris correspondent of the Times announces that Prince Malatesta, who participated in Napoleon's rising against the Pope, in Romagna, in 1837, has died as a Trappist monk at Alghero.

Mrs. Lovett's Strange Disappearance from Newport, N. Y.

NEWPORT, Dec. 5.—Mrs. John Lovett, wife of the express agent at Newport, Herkutt County, disappeared from her home Saturday evening. Her husband went to the barn, leaving her washing the dishes.

When he returned in half an hour she had gone. She wore a light calico dress and shawl, leaving hat, shoes and cloak at home. She was last seen by her husband in the morning.

Searching parties have obtained no trace of her. No cause of her flight is known. She is a well-to-do woman and had not been in good health for a year.

CUT THE BANKER'S BROTHER.

Naper Would Receive His Money Only from the Debtor.

FRANZ NUTLAND, brother of the Italian banker, Ferdinand Nutland, of 80 Mulberry street, appeared in the Tombs Police court this morning with his head swathed in bandages to appear against Joseph Naper, a fellow-countryman, residing in Brooklyn, who, Franz alleges, slashed him with a razor at his brother's house, yesterday morning.

The wounded man's niece told Justice McMahon that Naper came to collect $5,000 from the Nutlands, and that Naper refused to accept the money from any one but her uncle Franz.

When Franz told him that he couldn't pay Naper slashed him on the face with a razor. Naper was held for $1,000 bail for trial in the general sessions.

Women grieve and wonder.

The young wife is happy in her new home, her eyes are bright, her step light and free, she enters into all the pleasures of her husband.

After years comes a change, the bright eyes are dulled, the step is heavy, she is disconsolate, she no longer enjoys society or pleasure, she is miserable, and makes all around her miserable.

Sure as life, there is some derangement of the uterus or womb, causing backache, irregularity, dizziness, irritability, severe headache, and despondency or "the blues."

THEY CHOKED MRS. CLAUSSEN.

Four Burglars Assaulted Her and Her Husband.

Three of Them Caught and Brought Into the Tombs Court To-Day.

Three men, giving their names as George Lovell, James Lane and Michael Murphy, were this morning arraigned in the Tombs Court on the charge of burglary and assault, when the following story was told.

Theodore Clausen and his exceedingly pretty wife live in an attic room at 11 Oliver street. Lane, a week ago, hired an adjoining room at 107 West 14th street, with another man who has not yet been caught, were frequent callers upon him. They are all athletic men and dressed well.

Saturday night about midnight the Clausens were awakened by a knock at their door. When it was opened the four men forced an entrance. Murphy and Lane attacked Clausen, keeping his attitude fully occupied in defending himself. The others caught Mrs. Clausen by the throat and demanded her money.

The woman was choked almost into insensibility. Her clothing was searched, and then Clausen's pockets were gone through by the burglars, who, it is said, got nothing, although the Clausens had about $20 in their possession.

Then the man ran downstairs. Mrs. Clausen's screams had aroused Mrs. Burke, the landlady of the premises, and she shouted "Murder," which Lane heard, and then followed the thugs into the street. The fleeing men boarded a horse-car, which Carroll followed, yelling and cursing.

Police were attracted, and followed the car. Lovell jumped out, but was tripped by Detective Sullivan, and captured. The car, which had stopped, was then surrounded by seven policemen, and the three named above were quickly taken in custody and locked up at the Oak street station, but not until they had given the officers a hard fight. In the course of which the fourth man escaped. The police hope to capture him to-day.

Three prisoners were held in $5,000 each for examination Wednesday morning.

"BOODLE" OR NO BOODLE?

Charges Against a C. I. U. Committee to Be Tried Publicly.

The Special Committee appointed by the Central Labor Union to investigate the somewhat vague charges of "boodling" preferred against the Arbitration Committee by Delegate Heinrich, of the Beer-Drivers' Union, in not favoring the future delegates, made its report at yesterday's meeting.

The committee stated that its members could not agree upon a verdict as to the truth of the charges of alleged corruption; also, that the members of the Arbitration Committee were guilty of neglect of duty in not seeing that evidence which they had submitted to the committee was not tampered with or destroyed.

The committee recommended that the C. I. U. go into a Committee of the Whole and try the charges; that if they would be cured, they should be more careful about making charges which they could only support by hearsay evidence.

After some discussion it was resolved that the trial of the charges be laid over for two weeks. It was also resolved that the report of the investigation committee, together with all evidence and documents relating to it, be printed and circulated among the delegates at the next meeting. A motion to go into immediate executive session on the matter was lost by a vote of 18 to 20 upon a roll call.

Requisition for Outlaw Wyatt.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 5.—The requisition of Gov. Humberg, of Kansas, on Gov. Chase for the return of Elsworth Wyatt, of the Dalton gang, has arrived. Sheriff Bunsall says he will not dare to take Wyatt further than Wichita on account of the certainty that he would be lynched if he was taken to the county where the crime was committed.

DEUTSCHER CAUGHT AT LAST.

Four Complainants This Morning Against the Jeweller.

Samuel Deutscher, the Hungarian Jeweller, accused of trying to swindle his customers out of property left with him to be repaired, was arraigned in the Harlem Police Court this morning. Four people appeared against him as complainants.

Watches and jewelry to the amount of $1,000 are to be accounted for by the Jeweller. Deutscher kept a jewelry store opposite the Second Avenue surface railroad depot, at 1800 Second Avenue. Many of his customers included conductors, drivers and other employees of the railroad, and he had been swindling business, and always had on hand a large assortment of jewelry—other people's property.

A month ago Deutscher suddenly disappeared from his store. He moved away all his effects, including his customers' jewelry, at 3 o'clock in the morning.

Deutscher was caught at the East eighth street station, located him Thursday night at 120 West 14th street, but did not succeed in getting him until 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

The complainants to-day were Joseph Schmitt, 1800 Second Avenue; John Meeley, 430 East Seventy-ninth street; Moses Adams, 1800 Second Avenue, and Max Clifford, 1024 Lexington Avenue.

WOOLSEY DIVORCE OPENED.

Justice Truax, However, Makes Several Conditions.

Justice Truax, of the Supreme Court, has opened, on condition, the default by which Charles S. Woolsey obtained an absolute divorce from Edward J. Woolsey, the wealthy Astorian.

In his opinion, handed down to-day, the Justice says he is not convinced of the good faith of the defendant in allowing the default to be taken. The papers show that a representative from the office of the defendant's attorneys was in court at the time that the calendar was called for trial.

The alleged act of misconduct on the part of the plaintiff contained in the answer or the defendant's default, and the defendant's default, with his having been heard in court, he was come to the conclusion to open the default herein upon the following conditions:

That the defendant consent in writing to the Justice's action to a reference to be named by the court; that the judgment a ready entered herein stand as the judgment of this court; and that the defendant, upon the report be in favor of the defendant, the defendant may then move to vacate the present judgment, and upon such trial that plaintiff have the right to read the testimony read before the court, and the defendant to have the right to cross-examine the witness if he desires.

A SOCIETY BELLE.

The Beautiful Miss Marlatt, of Oxford, N. J.

What She Has to Say on a Very Interesting Subject.

Her Remarks Deeply Concern All Women.

Oxford, N. J., is the home of many beautiful ladies, but none fairer than Miss Anna Marlatt, who is a recognized belle and known and loved by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She had the privilege of being an official with a most serious complaint which rendered her parents and friends very anxious in regard to her state of health. Physician after physician was consulted, but without the slightest benefit, until at last, having been recommended to use a certain remedy, the sufferer and her parents were all amazed at the suddenness of the cure it effected.
